It is refreshing to read of such a conviction in he minds of the mass of the people; and to observe in the election returns how the mass of the people record such a conviction. State after State, with a marvellous uniformity, have pronounced the American party unfit to be trusted

The editor perhaps holds that whilst the people voted one way they were convinced another. Such is about his estimate of the people, and we are not surprised at it. He has kept bad company until he has imbibed an ill opinion of the world. In attempting to account for the origin of the new party, he gives a sorry account of the old Whig party. It had become effete, lifeless, and useless. This may be true, if the editor will confine it to the Whig party, of which only he has a right to sneak. He says :

The parties themselves had become a prey to selfish, petufogging politicians. The interests of the people were asonfaced to mere personal ambition. The places of patriots were occupied by demagogues. Principles were forgotten in the greed of public office, and onr popular elections were no longer an expression of public opinion upon the policy of our government, but they had become mere struggles between aspirants for observed at the public or the public of th

This is a severe judgment to pass on old friends. The editor's old party had the power in this State in the legislative and judicial departments. They had nearly all the offices in this city, and here is the description their old friend gives of them. It must apply to the dominant party in Kentucky, for they chiefly had the offices. If the editor's party had sunk so low it is not surprising that it tell into a lower deep. They are very patriotic and very pure now, according to the editor of the Journal; but his testimony is not worth much. He told a different story less than twelve months ago. If mistaken then, he is quite likely to be so

Beware of this editor, ye self-styled Americans eulogicing but a few short months ago. You have no security that he will not say as much of you a few months hence. He has wasted a great deal of ink in your praise in the day of your hope and prosperity, but now that the day of your despair and calamity is at hand he will turn his back upon you. He has so treated the eld Whig party, and will he treat a new one any better?

The editor of the Journal pretends that foreign influence had gotton control of the government. If he means the Federal government, some of his No cabinet officer is a foreigner; no member of the Senate is a foreigner, only two members of Congress out of 231 were born out of the United States. Common people would like to know, then, how this foreign influence had gotton centrol of the government.

The editor lets leak out what he means, in show ing that the naturalized vote of the country elected the present Executive of the United States. There is, in fact, the evil influence. Foreigners have not supported the editor of the Journal and his party it is suspected, and therefore their influence has been evil. If they had only voted for him and his party, they would have been excellent voters. In the late election, foreigners who were mean enough to vote the self-styled American ticket were carefully protected; and they would be all taken into fellowship if they would only help Know-Nothing demagogues to rule and ruin America

Our opinion is, and facts warrant it, that the editor has the same reason to think ill of native influence. In the South, where there are the fewest foreigners, his party has been most signally overthrown at the ballot-box; and the Know-Nothings will soon cry out for protection against the evil influence of native-born Ameri-

We are informed, very complacently, of the exalted patriotism of the new party. The Pharisees This song, like all the General's productions, is of trusted in themselves that they were righteous, a graceful flowing rythm: and despised others; and their successors in politics and religion have kept up their high pretensions in direct proportion to their hypocrisy.

Of course, what the editor says about the vitality and nationality of his party is all to cheer up the hopes of the faithful. A little wine in the last stages of human existence inspires its subject with a temporary life; so may these idle delighted that they were present. boastings of the editor of the Journal nurse a little spark of expiring hope in Know-Nothingism. The faction already belongs to the past. It is high time to gather up the fragments of its brief and disreputable history. The political contest of next year is already shaped, and Know-Nothingism has no part in it, except as a faction in the free States, to be used by the Abolitionists. It is well understood now that the bogus American party cannot carry a single Southern State, nor do they constitute a tenth of the vote of any free State, unless on the Abolition platform. Such is their nationality and vitality.

Let any Know-Nothing who doubts our judgment, mark it down. We tell him that his party has no future. It will have nothing to do with the great contest of next year, except as one of the numerous factions, headed by the Abolitionists, against the Democratic party.

We shall give but a brief notice of the Democratic meeting at Lexington until the full proceedings are before the public. It was intended as a mass meeting, but the prompt action of the counties gave the assemblage more the char- pracester of a State Convention. The Democracy from all sections of the State were on hand. The large tracts included within Nebraska and Kansas were without laws. They were portions of the old Louisiana territory, and slavery had existed within them at the time of the purchaso from France. In 1820 the Northern States, in an unjust and aggressive spirit, had refused to admit Missouri as a State, unless upon condition that slavery should be abelished. A protracted strugslavery should be abolished. A protracted strug-gle ensued, and at length the Southern States, to cure good feeling and tranquility, consented to an unjust restriction, by which it was provided that slavery should be forever prohibited in the territory lying North of 36 degrees and 80 minutes of north latitude, while it was only permitted South of that arbitrary boundary. The for themselves, the Abolitionists and Freesoilers sought auxiliaries to overthrow their hated enemy. The Southern members, aided by the Northern Democratic President had approved the bill. In every quarter emissaries were active, and the pulpits of their slaves. The indignation that overthe North, as well as public meetings rung with the territories to regulate the question of slavery for themselves, the Abolitionists and Freesoilers he North, as well as public inactings, rang with whelmed that secret and treasonable body colitical sermons and religious harangues. About the same time the Native American party, after was not again renewed until some municipal elec-tions in New York and Philadelphia, in 1843 and vived as a secret society, with eaths and mysteries to attract and secure the ignorant. This element marked its victories, caused it to be discounted as the latter of the to attract and secure the ignorant. This element was too important to be overlooked. Nothing was to be lost, while everything was to be gained by an alliance. The foreign immigrants had usually, after acquiring rights of citizonship, attached themselves to the Democracy. The Democracy had always supported the constitutional view of the slavery question, and the prescription of those of foreign birth alienated no friends while it conciliated allies and might induce desertion from the Democratic ranks. The fasion was soon completed. Another resource presented itself. The people, both in the North and South are chiefly Protestants. A smaller proportion of Catholics exist in the United States than in any other Christian country. Recont indications showed that the public mind was capable of being excited upon the tian country. Recont indications showed that the public mind was capable of being excited upon the Catholic question. The Colonies, from the earliest period, had been marked by intolerance, and history had shewn how susceptible Protestants were to apprehensions of Catholic domination, and how easily they could be excited by whispers of danger. This absurd terror had often subjected the English to ridicule, but we were destined to see the same fears inspired and used by political chemagogues in America. The Know-Nothing Order denouncing the passage of the Nebraska bill, proposing to exclude all Catholic and naturalized citizens from all places of honor, profit and trust, advocating the total repeal of the naturalization laws, or the extension of the period of probation to twenty-one years, and banded together with repulsive oaths , requiring falsehood and an unanily surrender of the rights of judgment, was a fruit of this unprincipled combination.

In the North the Know-Nothing falsehood and an unprincipled combination. annly surrender of the rights of judgment, was the fruit of this unprincipled combination.

In the North the Know-Nothings triumphed to be defined at first under an impenetrable secrecy, of the unturalization laws, or their extensions. In the North the Know-Nothings triumphed. Concealed at first under an impenetrable secrecy, their designs were suspected but not known. The elections soon showed the materials of which they were formed. Instead of the national representatives that constituted the last Congress, a body of Abolitionists and Freecoilers have been returned. Only a small number of national Democrats were able to resist the torrent, and Southern Know-Nothings, with insensate joy, exults the secrecy of the naturalization laws, or their extension to the naturalization laws, or their extension to the instructional of the naturalization laws, or their extension to such a period of probation as would exceed the usual chances of existence or render the right an cupty promise, would be nwise and unjust. The spirit of republican like ye recognizes no exclusive privileges among an active or naturalized cities and the sense of the instruction of the naturalization laws, or their extension to such a period of probation as would exceed the usual chances of existence or render the right an cupty promise, would be nwise and unjust. veto power, will preserve the nation, at least for a time, against their schenes. But a different fate awaited the Order in the Southern States. It found there no congenial atmosphere. The home of republican sentiments, the reingo from the narrow and unwise ideas that appear to pour from the ever-teeming womb of New England, the crucible in which the worthless dross of political and relimination of the know-Nothing order, has introduced in the content of the know-Nothing order, has introduced in the content of the know-Nothing order, has introduced an interval of the covernity of the covernity disaster in the South, except, anfortunately, in the recent elections in our own State.

In relation to the question of slavery in the territories, the great body of the Know-Nothing party entertain Freesoil opinions. When the Convention assembled in June last at Pailadelphia, all of the States where the party had been successions all of the States where the party had been successions as the state of the all of the States where the party had been successful were in favor of the restoration of the Mislitical should be promulgated like religious truths, in free and open discussion. The doors of the primary assembly should be as open and accessible delegation of Kentneky were willing to conciliate the Preesoilers, even by this betrayal of Southern interests and sacrifice of our constitutional rights.

The party in this State have never rebuked their souri restriction, and it seems even the delegation preserve the purity of the Constitution or the sanctity of the Chnrch of Christ. When the Re-deemer of mankind crossed the brook Cedron, and was interrogated by the high priest of his doc-trine, he answered him that he had spoken openly Northern division of the Know-Nothings was re- in the synagogue and the temple, and that in secre sented by their Southern brethren as a base calumny; and now there is not a single State Lodge or Council in the North that has not rejected and denounced the Philadelphia platform, or declared proselytes. Not long after the Presidential elec-slamorous for office. The administration treated their solicitations with the neglect that the merits and motives of the applicants deserved. As in Kentucky are hostile to the Nebraska bill. They have never yet declared their approval of the passage of the measure, but on the contrary have and motives of the applicants deserved. As shameless in their resentment as they were impudent in their pretensions—rebuffed by their own party, they songht refuge in any faction that would receive their friendship and promise reward. It is true that there were many honest mon deluded by the artful misrepresentations of falso friends who joined the society; but many have althe compromises of 1850 will be reopened, and the fngitive slave law amended so as to allow a perceive the anti-republican sentiments and dan ries, and as no honest sentiment impedes their union, they constitute a part of the new coalition. Such is the fusion of Abolitionists, Free-Soilers, bigots, malcontents, and mercenary politicians, which, under the name of the Know-Nothing order, or American, or Republican, or Fnsion party, according to its locality, attempt to malign, trathe ulcers of the State, is it to be hoped that luce, and defeat the De polluted source, or the healing waters of national union from that festering channel.

In the recent election a large number of the old Whig party, forgetful of the past, and animated alone by a love of country, rose superior to all narrow prejudices, and were allied to the Democracy in the vindication of the true principles of civi and religions freedom. United in a fraternal de-sire to protect our republican institutions from detheir resolution and patriotism were most neces-sary, and rendered the most valuable services to he cause we advocate.

The Democracy are profoundly sensible of the testimable blessings which have been secured by ur national union, and have ever held that the nly sure means of strengthening the confederacy emonting the fraternal love of the people, and placing beyond the perils of faction our national prosperity and glory, is by a strict devotion to the venerated constitution of our common country. It is nnnecessary for us to appeal to the past his-tory of the Democratic party for the purpose of inspiring confluence; but we can say to our coun trymen, that its past trinmphs constitute the most illustrious events in our annals, and the most glo-rious memories to be transmitted to our posterity. Its contests and its achievements delineate th character and embellish the history of the Repub-ic. Its liberal genius humiliated the aristocratic Federalists; the acquisition of Louisiana attested its statesmanship, the last war with Great Britain ts patriotism, the destruction of the United States Bank its incorruptibility, the annexation of Texas its foresight, the Mexican war its energy and cour-age, the Compromise measures its nationality, the Kansas and Nebraska bill its fearless adherence to to the honor, glory and perpetuity of the Union .ut another solemn duty awaits us. It is for the emocracy to preserve the ancient land marks of the Constitution, to secure the people in the pure and impertial administration of justice, to suppress inviolate the great principles of civil and religious

OLD ALMANACS AS GOOD AS NEW .- By a strange oincidence, which will not again occur for a long while, the new year of 1855 commenced on the ame day as in 1849, and, consequently, all through the year, the date will be on the same day. But what is more singular is that all the moveable holidays, from Septuagesima to Advent, fall on the same days. The almanaes of 1849 might, therefore, serve for the present year.

DR. A. M. MAURICKAU-My Dear Sir: My wife has been perceptibly sinking for some three years or more, in consequence of great anguish and suffering some anonths before and during continement; every sincees sive one more and more debintated and prostrated her, putting her life in imminent danger, and which was on the last occasion despaired of. I supposed that this state of thugs was her itsels, and resigned myself to meet the worst. I heard your book highly spoken of, as containing some matters reaching my case. Oh its receipt and perusal i cannot express to you the relief in parted to my wife, on learning that the great discovery of M. M. Desomeaux provided a remedy. It opened a grospect to me which I little conceived was possible. But for this, ere another year would have passed over my head, in all human probability my wire would have been in her grave and my children left motheriess.

Louisville Cuttle Market.

The receipts, sales, &c., for the week ending to-day, nave been as follows, as obtained by our reporter from

The market has been very abundantly supplied during the week past; Indeed, the receipts very far exceed taose of any previous week for some time. This has been caused partly by the fact that our beef-packing houses are beginning their season. A new packing house is about to be opened, or nas been already opened for putting away five thousand head of cattle for the European market. This aiso accounts for the rise in European market. This also accounts for the rise in price since our last report—fully equal to he b. The quality is about the same as previously reported. The receipts have been pretty well divided between Kentucky and Indiana case. tucky and Indiana, as follows:

AT NEWMAN'S.

Ky.—Ballitt co., 28 cattle; Grayson co., 141 cattle; Spencer co., 90 sheep and lambs.
IND.—Floyd co., 120 sheep and lambs; Monroe co., 20 do and 45 cattle; Orange co., 35 cattle and 235 sheep and Ky.—Bullitt co., 40 cattle; Garrard co., 44 do and 58 sheep and lambs; Lincoln co., 46 cattle; Nelson co., 105 do; Oldham co., 6 do; Sheiby co., 100 do and 71 sheep and lambs; Spencer co, 32 cattle.

lnp.—Clarke co., 35 cattle. PRICES.

PRICES.

CATTLE—The best quality in the market brought as high as 7%c, fair 6½ to 7c, good 5½ to 6c, rough 2½ to 6c gross. One small lot was sold (an "outside transaction") at 8c, some time during the week, at private sale, and for a particular purpose. There was but one Milk Cow in the market—sold with the caif at $22.

110GS—Slop-fed, from Carrolton and Milton, Ky., and Edinburg, Ind., at 5½ to 5½c.

SHEEU—Sales were made at prices ranging from

$1 50 to $2 and $3. Lambs at from $1 25 to $2.

TELEGRAPH MARKETS.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8-P. M.

Flour-Decidelly better, with a brisk export demand. Common and medium grades have improved fully two shillings. The market is closing very buoyant at the advance. Sales of 40,000 bits at 48250-25 for common to straight and extra Staie; 48 1200 bit for mixed to fancy and low grades extra Western; and $500 bits State for November at 47 26,25; 3,000 bits for December at 48; and 1,000 bits of all this mouth at 48. The market for Cauadian is a shade letter, with a good dema d.—Sales of 500 bits at $2500 25 for superfine to choice extra. Southern doing better; sales of 4,500 bits at $2500 25 cells for mixed to choice, and $39400 25 for fancy and extra.

Barley—It is in active request; from 7,000 to 8,000 has Western sold at $1 30\subseteq 135; clusting at the latter figure, which is an advance. Corn—Thic receipts continue small, and holders have advanced prices 12c. There is moderate demand for export. 1,000 bbls standard brands disposed of as above at $5 12\%, which is now the general asking rate, and 150 do extract at $8 57\%.

Wheat—There is a fair demand for wheat, and but a limited amount offering. Sales of 4,000 hushels at $1 63 G1 81 for inferior and fair Southern red; and $22 00 for good and prime white.

Corn—Continues to come forward very slowly; 2,000 bashels yellow sold at $2c, and 800 bushels white at $1c, affort.

White Little Sales in bile at $16\square$20.

other with kindness and love, as is related in the following story:

"Last evening," says a missionary gentleman,
"I supped with Lydia's father and mother. Before supper, Lydia, her parents and myself, were citting in the room together, and her little brother Oliver was out in the yard drawing the cart about. The mother went out and brought in some peaches, a few of which were large red-cheeked rare-ripes few of which were large red-cheeked rare-ripes. The father handed me one of the rare-ripes, gave one of the best to his little daughter, who was eight years old. He Lydia, and told her to go and give it to her brother. He was four years old. "Why did you not give him the one I told you to give." asked the father, rather sternly.
"Because, father,' said Lydia, 'I thought he would like mine better. But you ought not to disobey your father,'

"I did not mean to be disobedient, father,' said she, and her bosom began to heave, and her chin to quiver.

"But you were, my daughter,' said he.

"I thought you would not be displeased with me, father,' said laydia, 'if I did give brother the

TERRIBLE RAVAGES OF THE CHOLERA IN FLOR-ENCE—TEN PERSONS BURIED ALIVE.—A letter from Florence gives very terrible accounts of the rava-ges of the cholera. No less than 11,000 persons have, it is said, been carried off in the month of August. The population of the city, which is on an average 100,000, is now reduced to 60,000 by death and flight. The Grand Duke, it must be said to his credit, has set a noble example. Al-though his family has left, he remains himself and though his family has left, he remains himself, and, clad in the black veil of the Fraternity of Mercy, he sometimes assists in the burial of the dead. It is positively affirmed in this letter that ten persons were lately buried alive. The horrible fact was brought to light in this way:

An Italian ware-house keeper in l'alazzuolo (a fauborg of Florence) was buried for dead in the fauborg of Florence) was buried for dead in the Trespiano cemetery, with many other supposed corpses, in a common grave. He awoke to a sense of consciousness, and so thin was the covering of sandy carth above him that he made his way out to the surface. Still weak, he lived for three days on roots in the forest which surrounds the grave-yard.

At least he recovered strength sufficient to reach the surface of At last he recovered strength sufficient to reach his house, where he startled his family, who were in mourning for him. He assured them that he distinctly felt the bodies of numerous people interred with him moving about. The grave was consequently opened, and it was found that many (ten in number, as I have said) had stirred, and several of them had bitten their fingers in agony, and otherwise injured themselves. They were all dead when the investigation was made. The utdead when the investigation was made. The ut-most excitement prevailed on the subject among the population.—Corr London News, Sept. 19.

II. History—studied briefly in its own department, but continually in connection with the Civil Law, the Common Law of England and America, the Organic and International Law, and with the arbitrary portious of every other head of jurisprudence in the diagram.

III. The Organic Law of dovernment. It is proper to mention that this high head of Law is not passed over here in the ordinary mode. It is discussed and studied, not only abstractedly, on the self-evident axioms and the proposition of the arbitrary Law, but in the examples of the diversified torms of dovernment which have been and are now existent. It course is, however, commenced and terminated in exercises upon our own Constitutions and Statutory Organic Law, and the history of the origin, formatious, revolutions, mutations, and extensions of our own Government. Everything obtained elsewhere is appropriated in this course to the illustration, analysis, and synthetic discussion of our own system.

IV. International Law. The course in this department must of course be commenced with the necessary or natural Law, and embrace the history of the customary and other arbitrary Law down to the present day among civilized and commercial nations. But especial actuation will be paid to the public acts, treatics, and studies of the United States, which recognize, assert, and prescribe the rights and duties of the Common Law, in connection with the States, with its practice in the Federal and State Courts.

Every student will be taught the composition of the ordinary papers of business, the pleadings and other documents used in the practice of the several Courts, with the forms of process and of entries of judicial proceedings; and A Moot Conrivill be held twice a week for the exercise of all the students in the Practice of Law, and the argument of questions of fact and Law in a mode becoming the Counseins of fact and Law in a mode becoming the Counseins of fact and Law in a mode becoming the Counseins of fact and Link in a mode becoming the Counseins of fact and Link in the most professor only fills all the Professorships in this College, but all his time not required by his judician duties is employed with his students, and each class will have the benefit of not less than three lessons every day, and the Institution is incorporated by a statue of kentucky, with power to conter all the degrees known in either the Civil or Common Law, or which can be conferred by any college or university in America or Europe, so that every student may and shall have whatever dipioma he shall have earned.
